“Clients engage us when clarity matters more than certainty. We support them through each phase of a challenge with thoughtful judgment and focus.”

Neha is a litigation and dispute resolution lawyer with experience across civil, criminal, and commercial matters. A graduate of the University of Malaya, she trained intensively during her pupillage, gaining hands-on exposure to drafting pleadings, managing case files, and assisting her senior counsel(s) in court proceedings.

Her practice includes both litigation and conveyancing, giving her a strong foundation in procedural accuracy and risk management. Neha has worked on matters involving negligence, construction disputes, personal injury claims, and public law issues. She also has a keen interest in environmental and sustainability law, having published on the Wildlife Conservation Act 2010 and participated in environmental mooted competitions.

Fluent in English, Bahasa Malaysia, and Tamil, Neha is known for her meticulous research skills, attention to detail, and disciplined approach to legal work.
